FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Climate Issues Committee to meet in Cheyenne

Cheyenne (April 30, 2009) – The Climate Issues Committee will have their first meeting of the year on May 5, 2009 at the Hershler Building, Room 1699 from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. to discuss climate issues in the state.

During the meeting, the committee will hear reports from several state and federal agencies including the US Bureau of Reclamation, State Climatologist, Agriculture, Bureau of Land Management, Game and Fish, National Weather Service and many others regarding timely climate issues.

The public is encouraged to attend the meeting.

In accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, special assistance or alternate formats will be made available for individuals with disabilities upon request in advance of the meeting.
